The Police Officer in the Courtroom How to Avoid the Pitfalls of Cross

In challenging the processes of an interrogation where a statement has been made by an accused, defence counsel will look for anything that can be pointed to as an oppressive environment or threatening conduct by the investigator. The witness should not slump or fidget. Statements or confessions are often made despite the warnings that would seemingly deter anyone from saying anything.

interFIRE, A site dedicated to improving fire investigation worldwide.

Minimal due process, the Court held, requires that at both stages of the revocation process—the arrest of the parolee and the formal revocation—the parolee is entitled to certain rights. But not every investigation qualifies as a major case, and frontline police investigators are challenged to undertake the tasks of interviewing, questioning, and interrogating possible suspects daily. Judge Mavis earned his undergraduate degree from MIT and his J.
