Marine mineral resources: Effect of the low of the sea convention

A new approach, aquaculture, will allow some fishery products to be harvested similarly to crops on land, thus changing the fisherman from a hunter to a farmer with a substantial increase in efficiency.

Many companies add insult to injury by requiring them to do e. My Subcommittee on Energy and Mineral Resources will be examining areas where public land reforms can make a difference in getting domestic energy supplies to market. Additionally, we are required to, and have certain bonds in connection with our oil and gas exploration activities.
