The Market Revolution: Jacksonian America, 1815—1846. . These stakes have flattened heads from being pounded into the ground, were set behind timbers hewn from a different kind of wood, and had wrappings of string made from a third type of plant Juncus reed.

First Peoples in a New World: Colonizing Ice Age America / Edition 1 by David J. Meltzer

Miners, Merchants, and Farmers in Colonial Colombia. The 11 distinct pieces begin with Ian Steele's examination of how a seemingly insignificant incident in South Carolina may have triggered the French and Indian War, and end with Thomas Lappas's penetrating look at the efforts of the Sac-Fox leader Keokuk to fulfill the duties of a chief while dealing with the threat of removal. Parker's rise in archaeology just as the field was taking shape demonstrates that Native Americans could have found a place in the scholarly pursuit of the past years ago and altered its trajectory.
