

Reform or ruin, proved inevitable - being a genuine copy of Major Cartwrights petition, against the Treason and Sedition Bills, as presented to the House of Commons, by Mr. Fox, on Wednesday, the 25th of November, 1795. with an introduction.

printed for T. G. Ballard -

Description: -

-Reform or ruin, proved inevitable - being a genuine copy of Major Cartwrights petition, against the Treason and Sedition Bills, as presented to the House of Commons, by Mr. Fox, on Wednesday, the 25th of November, 1795. with an introduction.

-Reform or ruin, proved inevitable - being a genuine copy of Major Cartwrights petition, against the Treason and Sedition Bills, as presented to the House of Commons, by Mr. Fox, on Wednesday, the 25th of November, 1795. with an introduction.

Notes: Refers to John Cartwright - (1740-1824) - LC.

This edition was published in 1795

Filesize: 31.28 MB

Tags: #

...

...

...

...

Related Books

- Tenacity in winter.
- Max Havelaar, of, De koffveilingen der Nederlandsche Handelmaatschappy : historisch-kritische uitg
- The divine order - Western culture in the Middle Ages and the Renaissance
- Code division multiple access communications
- French opinion on war and diplomacy during the Second Empire.