Dean of Hereford to retire

Dating from about 1300, this was the largest surviving version of a medieval map of the known world and for many years had been displayed in the cathedral unprotected. Since then much else has been done.

Diocese of Worcester

He answered questions readily on his recent visit with great enthusiasm.

However, the term differs slightly from the Anglican usage as Catholic deans do not necessarily preside over the this function belonging to the office of, and are not necessarily required even to be a member of the chapter. As Dean he has brought the history of the Cathedral and her community to life through his speaking and writing. It suggests that Robert was taking his cue from Norman and Norman-trained bishops in the post-Conquest English hierarchy.

Diocese of Worcester

What one thing will you remember about all this in seven days' time? Academically his special interest in missiology; he is also a keen armchair sportsman, book collector, music lover and walker. William of Wycombe, who had been a canon of Llanthony while Robert de Béthune was prior there, and who had later become prior of Llanthony himself, wrote a Life of Robert whose composition can be dated to the period between 1148 and the mid 1150s, the date of the death of prior Reginald of Wenlock, one of the dedicatees. Family and friends were greatly relieved a year later, however, when he gave up driving his Mercedes convertible.

Hereford All Saints

From 1990- 2002, I was Vicar of Tewkesbury Abbey in Gloucestershire and have been Dean of Hereford since 2002.

Robert Willis (priest) Biography

Although the main hand of the MS is fourteenth-century, the compilation transcribed by this hand was made in the late thirteenth century, essentially in the 1270s with only a few later additional names up to 1299. One of the aims behind its compilation seems to have been to copy charters recording, or otherwise associated with, disputed settlements. The oldest bell in the cathedral is the sixth which dates back to the 13th century.
