Theophile Delcassé

In 1898 Delcassé had to deal with the delicate situation caused by Captain Marchand's occupation of the town of Fashoda, for which, as he admitted in a speech in the chamber on 23 January 1899, he accepted full responsibility, since it arose directly out of the Liotard expedition; and in March 1899 he concluded an agreement with Britain by which the difficulty was finally adjusted, and France consolidated her vast colonial empire in North-West Africa.
