A policy framework for mitigating the economic impact of COVID

Targeting swift and comprehensive measures at the goals of mitigation, preservation and recovery will ensure that the economic bounce-back is as strong as it can be. It is now a foregone conclusion that the global economy will slip into a recession in 2020.

Government economic policy

There is an established international consensus around the need for social distancing to combat the spread of Covid-19.

GDP and Economic Policy

This paper develops a specific-factors model of regional economies that provides a theoretical foundation for this intuitively appealing empirical approach and also provides guidance on treatment of the nontraded sector. The table can list employment for all sectors and industries, or individual sectors and industries.

The COVID

We evaluated eight common state economic policies that determine tax levels, spending on health and welfare, and regulations that shape the labor market to understand how those policies impact population health. The latest Bureau of Labor Statistics data show 21 states experiencing payroll job loss from November to December.

Measuring economic and economic policy uncertainty and their macroeconomic effects: the case of Spain

The selectors at the top of the map allow users to toggle between the change in employment between February and December 2020 as well as between November and December 2020.
