SRA

Every firm, of course, must undertake the journey keeping its own resource strengths in mind. When diversification is likely to produce fewer benefits than costs, the firm should turn its attention to restructuring its operations with a view to enhance shareholder value.

What is Corporate Strategy?

The decision to diversify into unrelated areas is generally undertaken by firms in volatile industries that are subject to rapid technological change.

Strategaeth Gorfforaethol 2017

A large diversified company can use a powerful competitive weapon called—predatory pricing—to kill competition.
