20 of the Most Venomous Animals in the World

Australian Spiders - Other Spiders The White-tip or White-tailed Spider Lampona cylindrata is found across eastern and southern Australia. This potentially fatal condition causes symptoms such as swelling, abdominal cramps, nausea and sweating. Mainly nocturnal, the female redback lives in an untidy web in a warm sheltered location, commonly near or inside human residences.

Even if you do manage to get bitten the bite is likely ineffective. This is the same poison as is found in pufferfish and arrow poison frogs and is over 1,000 times stronger than cyanide. With no effective antivenom available the Indian Red scorpion Hottentotta tamulus is commonly cited as the most dangerous scorpion and the figures seem to bear this out.
