Longshoring and Marine Terminals

Warning location and the amount of clutter around the warning had significant effects on compliance, but the presence or absence of pictorials did not. In addition, the licensee shall — i Make all shipments of the material either A in dedicated transports with no intermediate stops to load or unload other cargo and with no carrier or vehicle transfers or temporary storage in-transit, or B under arrangements whereby the custody of the shipment and all custody transfers are acknowledged by signature, and ii Maintain the material under lock or under the control of an individual who has acknowledged acceptance of custody of the material by signature. The question before the Court was the validity of a nondiscriminatory statute that required every company transporting freight within the state, with certain exceptions, to pay a tax at specified rates on each ton of freight carried.

Safety, Health and Welfare at Work Act 2005

Copies of superseded material must be retained for three years after each change. C of Appendix B of this part, each licensee subject to the requirements of this section shall develop and submit to the NRC for approval site specific, content-based, physical fitness performance tests which will--when administered to each Tactical Response Team member, armed response person, or guard--duplicate the response duties these individuals may need to perform during a strenuous tactical engagement. Except for the requirement for sideboards, the final language remains the same as that proposed.

Clause III

Miln, ; License Cases, ; Passenger Cases, ; Patterson v.

Hazard Communication

As discussed in the proposal, the General Accounting Office GAO issued a report in May 1992 that addressed issues employers had with complying with the HCS GAO, 1992, Document ID 0292. Cost drivers do not necessarily need to be quantified; however, they strongly influence the selection and magnitude of resource drivers and activity drivers. The licensee shall document the results of the qualification and requalification.

View

As explained more fully in the Summary and Explanation, OSHA finds that requiring ACGIH TLVs as well as the IARC and NTP classification listings on the SDS will provide employers and employees with useful information to help them assess the hazards presented by their workplaces.

Nondiscrimination on the Basis of Disability in State and Local Government Services

The information contained in the bulletins are gathered from a range of sources including inspections, research, investigations, advice from industry and the EU Commission. Where a local authority makes a decision under section 238 of the Act, it shall issue notice of its decision to the prescribed bodies and any person who made a submission or observation in accordance with article 196.
