Lessons from the Marine environment The Marine Strategy Framework Directive, now implemented through the UK Marine Strategy, uses 11 descriptors to assess Good Environmental Status GES , similar in concept to ecosystem health. Barrabool is a 5000 ha dryland all-Merino sheep property between Conargo and Carrathool in the Western Riverina, NSW. Like many of the surrounding stations a gradual but noticeable increase in exotic species occurred during the mid-to-late 20 th Century, and a decline in native species.

Strategic Initiative Lead Funded Projects

Despite its size, reserved status and impressive biodiversity values, including recognition on the Directory of Important Wetlands in Australia, the local community in Nelson had expressed concern for over a decade about the impact that two artificial outlets to the ocean were having on wetland condition.

Ethiojobs: Monitoring, Evaluation and Learning Coordinator, WASH Job at Population Services International (PSI) (Job Expired)

It also identifies a range of management solutions that address both instream and out-of-stream water needs. In this way Areas would rank all sites to give them a priority for monitoring using the existing protocols. This project works to identify and stop nondairy discharges of livestock manure in the Whatcom Clean Water Program in WRIA 1 and in the Clean Samish Initiative in WRIA 3.
