Older people widely demonised in UK, ageism report finds

Tackling ageism means tackling patronising attitudes to older people. Ageism is a stereotypical view of an individual regarding their competency and need for protection. But why should that come with any negative connotations? The former may be why, in some years, California has seen nearly three times as many complaints of age discrimination than its residents report to the EEOC.

Ageism: the youth perspective

©2003-2021 Sage Life Technologies, LLC. Ageism: Ageism is stereotyping and discriminating against individuals or groups on the basis of their age. The European Youth Forum is shedding light on employment, access to social protection and political participation as a case in point of ageism towards younger people! The responses to the have thrown up serious questions about the way we think and talk about older people, and highlighted what an impact those attitudes can have.

Education, interaction with older people reverses ageism

Many young adults believe adults in their 70s, 80s and 90s+ are ineffective, dependent, lonely, angry, disabled, in poor health, and less physically active than young adults.
