The beauty of Sa'di's wisdom is that it is timeless. If you perceive anything reprobable in my conduct, although it may seem approvable to me, inform me thereof that I may endeavor to change it.

Gulistan (book)

Printed by the Karma Shastra Society for Private Subscribers only. His father warns him that his physical strength alone will not be sufficient to ensure the success of his travels, describing five kinds of men who can profit from travel: the rich merchant, the eloquent scholar, the beautiful person, the sweet singer and the artisan.

The Rose Garden (Gulistan) of Saadi: Omar Ali

One night I sat up in attendance on my father, and did not close my eyes the whole night, and held the precious qur'an in my lap while the people around me slept. Born in Shiraz sometime between 1184 and 1210 CE, Sa'di received his education in Baghdad and spent several decades in travel and pilgrimage. Hypocrites abound, foolish kings appear with their wily ministers, wise rulers vie with their malevolent courtiers, boastful young warriors turn tail and run.
