Timber management practices and timber species used by small scale furniture workshops in Uganda

African plants in general have developed an overwhelming diversity of forms, functions, habitats and geographical distribution. And you can be a part of it.

Humboldt Redwood: High

The project will be run through local churches, and biblical principles will be central to the teaching. It is one of the softer of all the hardwoods that are commonly in use.

Types of Industrial Timber

The grain is straight but it can be irregular. Due to sudden increment of pressure, the wood fibers explode and natural adhesive gets separated from the fibers.

ABSTRACT A study was done in Kampala District, Central Uganda, to document the timber species and timber management practices used in furniture workshops.
