Dissenting Experience

Baptists Baptists were the ones who believed that baptism should be a personal choice and not a religious practice that is imposed at the time of birth.

Moments in History: Tolerance and Dissent

These ideas were shaping the future of the country and were giving rise to a number of new forms of faith and belief. Backed up by parliamentary legislation, there were clerical ejections on a large scale, prisons crammed full of religious dissidents, religious tests placed on the holding of public office and a theoretically restored Anglican monopoly of political and social life.

Pilgrim History

John Wesley formed an elaborate hierarchically organised system of Societies of the People called Methodists, run by a Conference which he controlled, and serviced by lay preachers selected by him. They also referred to the year 1666 and its relationship to the biblical indicating the end of earthly rule by carnal human beings.
