Painting of Ancient Greek Sculpture Moreover, we do not usually see extant works as they were in antiquity; colour contrasts have usually been obliterated. Another notable change is the burgeoning of artistic credit in sculpture.

Sculpture and Art in Ancient Greece

The sculpture was raised from the sea on 27 April 1999 and immersed in a basin of fresh water for desalinization aimed toward slowing, and subsequently stopping, corrosion effects due to the presence of dissolved salts. Greek statues were hardly ever uncommissioned work made solely for aesthetic reasons of the kind that we now call art.
