Gendai Nihon no kenpo toso

This is NOT a retyped or an ocr'd reprint. The effort calls for a search for a common language, and as much as possible, also a shared framework of understanding and interpretation. Embraced by an eclectic mix of internationally-minded leaders in politics, business, scholars, grassroots networks, and civic activists, people vary along a spectrum from aggressive to moderate in their quest for redress and justice, and from realist to idealist in pursuing rapprochement.

Nationalism, Pacifism, and Reconciliation: Three Paths Forward for Japan's "History Problem"

Those civic groups, consisting of scholars, public intellectuals, students, activists, and other public figures who are mostly of the postwar generation, vow to safeguard constitutionalism and constitutional democracy, and hold the government accountable to them. Mujinkyō no kosumoporitan -- Hanada Kiyoteru. Catalogue Persistent Identifier APA Citation Nihon Minshu Horitsuka Kyokai.

Nationalism, Pacifism, and Reconciliation: Three Paths Forward for Japan's "History Problem"

The Pacifist Path The pacifist path subscribes to the notion that promoting healing and human security is the best solution to overcoming the past.

Gendai Nihon no kenpo toso

Many proponents of this approach today are neonationalist public figures including politicians, intellectuals, and cultural critics. What emerged over time was an anti-war pacifism based on a desire for human security, regret for a violent past, and a pledge to be model global citizens in the future.
