Orthodoxy, of whatever colour, seems to demand a lifeless, imitative style. I thought this site was for people seeking spiritual advancement and understanding. It is almost universally felt that when we call a country democratic we are praising it: consequently the defenders of every kind of regime claim that it is a democracy, and fear that they might have to stop using that word if it were tied down to any one meaning.

Most of them put some kind of religious spin on their conspiracy theories and do little research to verify much of anything beyond parroting what they have heard from others. It is named after the Reverend William Archibald Spooner 1844—1930 , Warden of New College, Oxford, who was notoriously prone to this tendency. A mass of Latin words falls upon the facts like soft snow, blurring the outline and covering up all the details.

When one watches some tired hack on the platform mechanically repeating the familiar phrases — bestial, atrocities, iron heel, bloodstained tyranny, free peoples of the world, stand shoulder to shoulder — one often has a curious feeling that one is not watching a live human being but some kind of dummy: a feeling which suddenly becomes stronger at moments when the light catches the speaker's spectacles and turns them into blank discs which seem to have no eyes behind them. The biggest threat to humanity today is cancerous, Islamist ideology that is growing fast right across the world.
