Analyzing the impact of social factors on homelessness: a Fuzzy Cognitive Map approach

Kim and colleagues 2008 classify models in terms of four distinct dimensions: 1 the ability of individuals in the model to interact static versus dynamic ; 2 the ability of new individuals to enter the model as the time steps of the model progresses open versus closed ; 3 whether population averages are used or the model tracks individual actions aggregate versus individual-based ; and 4 whether model transitions are variable or fixed stochastic versus deterministic.

Laurie Brown and Ann Harding: Social Modelling and Public Policy

We counted related subfamilies and primary families in a single household as one family but counted and determined the poverty status of unrelated subfamilies separately.
