A model of rectitude and obsessed with his detective-work, Ahmed Kamal Faridi is a no-nonsense aristocrat who loathes crime and is much resolute in expunging the criminals. Qasim is another comical and brainless wacky buffoon who yields irresistible occasions of laughter. Among them is Vishi Sinha, a voracious reader of these novels, and also the manager of Surendra Mohan Pathak fan club in Delhi.

URDU ADAB: Ibn

Some places worth mentioning are: Dilkusha, Fizaro, Niagara, Tip Top, High Circle, etc. Helped by his sidekick, an effeminate and occasionally buffoonish sergeant named Hamid, Faridi enters the story of Diler Mujrim when an old lady, Savita Devi, is found stabbed to death in her sleep.
