Ezekiel, Daniel

I pose a question to you: Yes, no... yes, no... half of the time ... some yes, some no. It is a preview of Easter. This is why, with Saint Thomas, we come to understand the identity of the consecrated person, beginning with his or her complete self-offering, as being comparable to a genuine holocaust.

The Ladder of Divine Ascent

Those with Him saw Jesus in His glory. They thus advance in the knowledge of their Master, realizing that the human aspect does not express all His reality; in their eyes the otherworldly and divine dimension of Jesus is revealed.

Luke 9 NABRE

In the Blessed Virgin Mary, consecrated persons also find a Mother who is altogether unique. Such an experience, Adam informs us, had long been beyond his ken. A worthy successor to Michael Ramsey's The Glory of God and the Transfiguration of Christ 1949.

Patrick Comerford: The Transfiguration: finding meaning in icons and Orthodox spirituality

All this is illuminated by the author's own experience of serious illness. No one is persecuted for Christ's sake because of their political ideology, or their moral position on some behavior, as if Jesus were a theorist like Ayn Rand or Karl Marx and Christianity just another system of ethics.

Transfiguration

So the practical concerns of someone in a difficult situation are always in the background, to keep the theo-logy rooted in the present. Accustomed to seeing him daily in the simple appearance of his humanity, they are astonished as they face that new splendour that also envelops his entire body. Drawing from his own transfiguring life experiences, including a bout with leukemia, as well as such diverse sources as Eastern Christian iconography, Origen, Jerome, Augustine, Chrysostom, Grundtvig, Jeremy Taylor, modern biblical scholarship, and others, Kenneth Stevenson shares with us his own disciplined lectio divina into which we are invited so that we may might contemplate and live the event and process of the Transfiguration of Christ.

Cistercian Studies: Rooted in Detachment : Living the Transfiguration by Kenneth Stevenson (2007, Perfect) for sale online

Having received from Christ a message of liberation, the Church has the mission to proclaim this message prophetically, promoting ways of thinking and acting which correspond to the mind of the Lord.

The Beatitudes are Essential and Relevant Today

The Beatitudes express the idea that peace comes from peacemakers who are characterized by their poverty of spirit, their ability to mourn for the world, their lack of attachments or clinging to personal rights, their hunger for the healing of the world, their extreme mercy extended even towards their worst enemies, and their purity of heart.

Poem: “Transfiguration” : Catholic Lane

To tend towards holiness: this is in summary the programme of every consecrated life, particularly in the perspective of its renewal on the threshold of the Third Millennium. We are given a careful reading of an important text, which is located in the life and worship of the Church, and which, as a result, can be lived out by the individual believer.
