The London Business School econometric model of the UK

Will European securities exchanges merge - or disappear? LSBF's Sceptre Court campus in , London The London School of Business and Finance was founded in 2003 by the British entrepreneur, Aaron Etingen also known as Arkady Etingen. Our model explains why governments with strong fiscal positions are more likely to run informative stress tests, and, paradoxically, how they can end up spending less than governments that are more fiscally constrained. We will explore these and other key issues.
