

Attitudes of employers and rehabilitation professionals toward employees who become disabled

Will Menninger Center for Applied Behavioral Sciences, Return to Work Center [and] Research and Training Center - Changing Attitudes Toward People with Disabilities: Experimenting with an Educational Intervention on JSTOR

Description: -

- Physicians (General practice) -- United States.

English language -- Dialects -- Australia.

Beethoven, Ludwig Van, -- 1770-1827.

Rehabilitation counselors -- United States -- Attitudes.

Employer attitude surveys -- United States.

People with disabilities -- Employment -- United States. Attitudes of employers and rehabilitation professionals toward employees who become disabled

-Attitudes of employers and rehabilitation professionals toward employees who become disabled

Notes: Bibliography: p. 55-58.

This edition was published in 1988

Filesize: 9.56 MB

Tags: #Employer #attitudes #toward #workers #with #disabilities: #A #review #of #research #in #the #past #decade, #Journal #of #Vocational #Rehabilitation

The Supply of Direct Support Professionals Serving Individuals with Intellectual Disabilities and Other Developmental Disabilities: Report to Congress

Barriers to employment make it more difficult for those individuals with disabilities who are capable, from reducing or even eliminating that support. Accommodations for PWDs may entail additional costs to employers, but evidence to date suggests that these costs are usually minor and unlikely to tip the benefit versus cost assessment away from hiring from this source of labor.

Employer attitudes toward hiring persons with disabilities: A vignette study in Sweden

Among these employers, intentions towards hiring the disabled applicant increased when receiving the information regarding financial compensation.

Disability Reconsidered: The Paradox of Physical Therapy

Rehabilitation Counseling Bulletin, 46 3 , 130—137. According to numerous studies, employers anticipate costs such as workplace accommodations, the need for supervision, or lost productivity due to absenteeism or lower work performance, capabilities, or qualifications Hernandez et al.

Attitudes of Health Professionals towards Disabled People A Discussion and Review of the Literature

Two hundred and seventeen participants took part in the study.

Related Books

- State of the art technology and organisational culture.
- Expresión nacional
- Striking for life - labors side of the labor question : the right of the workingman to a fair living
- Applied physiology.
- Dark and darker - compilation of short stories