List of U.S. state partition proposals

New States may be admitted by the Congress into this Union; but no new State shall be formed or erected within the Jurisdiction of any other State; nor any State be formed by the Junction of two or more States, or Parts of States, without the Consent of the Legislatures of the States concerned as well as of the Congress. The clause has served this same function since then whenever a proposal to partition an existing state or states has come before Congress. From the description of Variation of the compass, 1773.

Alexander, William, 1726

New England town records frequently include land transactions, but in most states land records are kept at the county level. Signers of the Association In addition to the resource immediately above, lists of Signers of the Association for the following counties in New York are online: , , and .
