The Government of Canada is committed to engaging to receive the views of Indigenous peoples, the public and stakeholders during regulatory development. To implement these mitigation and follow-up measures effectively, the Ministerial Regulation also includes other conditions found in recent decision statements.

Public

As noted above, a plan should focus on ensuring that a good response to threats, emergencies, and recovery processes occurs at the local level.

COSHH basics

The atmosphere is relatively stable when compared to cold front activity.

HSG 142 Dealing with Offshore Emergencies

Effectiveness, evaluation, continuous improvement Audit and review processes need to be adopted to assess and evaluate the effectiveness of the overall emergency systems, procedures, facilities, programmes, equipment, training and individual competencies.

Emergency procedures

At the very least, emergency planners need to ensure that there is nothing in the plans that could be construed as a means of facilitating such abuses. The agency shall discuss at appropriate points in the draft statement all major points of view on the environmental impacts of the alternatives including the proposed action. Leach's Storm-petrels and other relevant species Recommendation 21 — It is recommended that ECCC, in partnership with Indigenous groups and relevant stakeholders including the oil and gas industry, increase its research into the seasonal presence of Leach's Storm-petrels and other relevant species in the Study Area and on the species' behaviour and susceptibility to lights from drilling platforms and vessels, including the potential role of offshore operations in recently observed population declines Section 3.
