The rojal pomp con- OBocdtiU Ua 'arrival at bispalaceof St. If they do not continue from five of the clock in the morning till seven at night in the summer, and from seven till five in winter.

Earl of Oxford

The marquis, having satisfied the king's commands, did what he could to prevent the confirmation of the marriage ; and intended to send his son beyond the seas, to travel through France, and so to pass his time abroad ; until that means were found out to untie that knot, which Buckingham had urged the king to tie upon his son. To prevent these die- orders, a proclamation was published on the 6th of December. I canAot say I have finished it, for I know how defective and imperfect it is, as limbed only in the original nature, not without the active blessings, and so left it as a task fitter for remoter times, and the sallies of some, bolder pencil to correct that which is amiss, and draw the rest up to life, than for me to have endeavoured it.
