Chapter 5. Choosing Strategies to Promote Community Health and Development

In these cases, they are likely to be badly planned and administered, and to have little effect. Now in its 52nd year, the Page County Heritage Festival is a family-oriented weekend with fun for the whole family! The Contribution of World Heritage to Sustainable Development Outside the Millennium Development Goal MDG N. In other cases, well-intentioned planning has led to negative consequences.

Policy

Requests the World Heritage Centre, with the support of the Advisory Bodies to convene a small expert working group to develop, within a year, a proposal for a policy on the integration of sustainable development into the processes of the World Heritage Convention, for possible inclusion in the future Policy Guidelines document. In Summary Social planning can be an effective means of community organization and development, and of policy change, if it's entered into in a spirit of partnership with the community. Here you will find several ways of accessing the full version of David Wilcox's Guide to Participation.

Maryland Historical Trust

Once people become relatively sophisticated about what is possible and about dealing with the various systems - political, financial, social and otherwise - they're more likely to be able to find their own solutions. Experience has shown how the degradation of natural resources, neglected rural areas, urban sprawl and poorly engineered new constructions increase the vulnerability of communities to disaster risks, especially in poorer countries. The overall goal of the policy is to assist States Parties, practitioners, institutions, communities and networks, through appropriate guidance, to harness the potential of World Heritage properties and heritage in general, to contribute to sustainable development and therefore increase the effectiveness and relevance of the Convention whilst respecting its primary purpose and mandate of protecting the Outstanding Universal value of World Heritage properties.

Maryland Historical Trust

Its adoption represents a significant shift in the implementation of the Convention and an important step in its history. In some cases, just keeping the community informed - through regular meetings, the media, an e-mail list - may be enough. So in good measure, it's up to community leaders and activists to raise the issue and make sure the community becomes part of the process.

World Heritage Centre

In recent testimony before the U. Policymakers, if they're serious about community involvement and participation, should engage in that process as well.

Heritage Festival

Chester County's founding in the Quaker principles of tolerance and necessary civil disobedience, coupled with the boundary dispute with Maryland and the drawing of the fateful Mason and Dixon Line, established our community as a leader in this country's struggle to end the horrors of slavery. See also the extensive policy reference list. Community participation can change their attitude about what is possible - probably the single most important element to creating change.

The Heritage Foundation

This is the time to recruit members of the planning group, and to ask people to pull in others they know. Read more about these historic sites.

Chapter 5. Choosing Strategies to Promote Community Health and Development

She offered several recommendations to keep the risk of misuse in America low. If you want the community to run the effort completely - and community-run efforts can be extremely effective - you may have to sponsor or provide some training for those participating.
