Functions of Marketing

Branding : The word brand is a comprehensive term. Survival: Survival may be the basic and ultimate objective of a business particularly under changing environment and changing demand and competition.

Functions of Marketing

To identify and understand the target market 2. Are the executives of the big pharmaceutical companies volunteering their children? When we call a commodity a standard one, we mean that it is of a certain quality which is dependent upon chemical contents, flavour, size, colour, appearance, etc. Key policy elements include the timing and form of the initial recovery communication as well as expectations on follow-up after that point.

Risk

This function is more relevant in the case of consumers. There is in reality, segments of market for each product.
