For example, when studying Shakespeare's Merchant of Venice, one always comes to the question of whether the play shows Shakespeare to be anti-Semitic. Studying the history reveals more about the text; studying the text reveals more about the history. The relative magnitude of the journals program within the Press is unique among American university presses.

The New Historicism Reader

From the description of the new historicism theory, we can say that new historicism refers to the analysis of literature while taking a keen interest in the socio-cultural and historical events that are involved in building literary work as it assumes that every piece of literature is as a result of a historical event that created it. In short, The New Historicism Reader offers everything required to know, teach and practice the New Historicism.
