He explains that the different Shuddha and Vikrtasvaras can be derived as the Samvadi-s of one another, starting with the basic Svaras viz. These traditions were not distinct until about the 16th century. However, Indian music uses tuning, unlike some modern Western classical music, which uses the tuning system.

Yashas Bedarkar

It classified the Ragas according to the system of 72 basic scales Mela. It has two major traditions: the North Indian classical music tradition is called , while the South Indian expression is called.

Yashas Bedarkar

This system resembled the contemporary Arabic system of 12 predominant modes Maqam.
