American war ballads and lyrics; a collection of the songs and ballads of the colonial wars, the revolution, the war of 1812

The bold United States, Which four-and-forty rates. Nor less shall thy fair ones to glory ascend, And genius and beauty in harmony blend; The graces of form shall awake pure desire, And the charms of the soul ever cherish the fire; Their sweetness unmingle, their manners refined, And virtue's bright image, instamped on the mind, With peace and soft rapture shall teach life to glow, And light up a smile in the aspect of woe.

American War Ballads and Lyrics, Volume 2 (of 2) by George Cary Eggleston

Santana boasted loudly that, before two hours were past, His Lancers through Saltillo should pursue us fierce and fast:— On comes his solid infantry, line marching after line; Lo! Half in the sea and half in air, A swimmer on their foaming crest. From scoundrels and rascals whom gold can corrupt.

Songs of the Civil War

To ocean's farthest barrier then Your whit'ning sail shall pour; Safe they'll ride o'er the tide, While Columbia's thunders roar, While her cannon's fire is flashing fast, And her Yankee thunders roar. You roused the sons of liberty.

American war ballads and lyrics; a collection of the songs and ballads of the colonial wars, the revolution, the war of 1812

I lo, ye who by the chafing tide Have roughened in the gales! He heard the crowing of the cock. In the South during the civil war, almost all the adult males, with some who were rather adolescent than adult, were under arms. Do you love it or slavery best? And God will l css the right.
