It was prepared by MSC with inputs from GSFC. The Atlantic Missile Range AMR I. Another major consideration was time.

Entry Strategies in Global Markets

During pass 20, the timing system was again defective since it indicated 21 hours rather than 20 hours. The command antenna was to have at least 18-db gain, circular polarization, and to be steerable. A premission checkout and the mission results indicated that proper use of the squelch circuit eliminated background noise from open UHF receivers during periods of silence.
