How To Improve Your Lipreading Skills Online

The early professionals either received their training in Europe, were trained in the general area of speech, or were dedicated classroom teachers serving in a specialized capacity.

Lipreading in hearing impaired

People who develop deafness later in life may be more likely to rely on lip-reading instead of learning sign language. In the 1960s there was a developing interest in language disorders, early work in the diagnosis of such disorders being reported by W.

EUROPEAN INFLUENCES

West had developed a test for the evaluation of hearing aids that made use of words that carried specific frequency characteristics. After watching each video, you choose which of the written answers below matches what is being said.

Lip reading

I know some offer speech to text but not all people have this facility at the moment.
