This reticence had begun to wane when I began my research just past the middle 1970s. There were no financial reasons to oppose it. Lawrence is the largest river in Canada in volume of water discharged at its mouth, the Mackenzie is the longest.

Strangers within our gates, or, Coming Canadians

It does not so much want more build- 24 Kenneth Bagnell ings—of these there are enough deserted, some shut—but more living, loving labourers. Specializing in Do- mestic Law, including probate, divorce and settlement of estates. At the same time, it is obvious that his heart is not in his work, that his mind is on other things.

Debating sacred space in the city : religion and taxation in interwar Victoria and Vancouver

There are advertisements in every railroad station, in every post-office. The last exhibits European art, a growing collection of Asian art, and a large body of work by Canadians. Les Automatistes, who emulated his style, formed around him after 1945; they included the renowned abstract expressionist painter Jean Paul Riopelle.

We cannot allow them to drift away, unbefriended and uncared for, to become a menace to the political institutions, the community well being, and the higher life of our community. Roberts, the way in which the collar of his jacket rides up his neck suggests that he may have been wearing an off-the-rack suit. Wisely, the city itself avoided becoming involved in such theoretical and potentially explosive discussions.

Solidarity Blues: Race, Culture, and the American Left

The Great Plains region is rich in reserves of crude petroleum and natural gas; these are concentrated in the Prairie provinces, particularly in Alberta.

The population at large may have thought little about these issues in the abstract, but English-speaking Canadians were conscious of the British connection as somehow part of their identity, rather than as a colonial yoke. A few years ago Canadian-born children described themselves as English, Irish, Scotch or French, according as their parents or ancestors had come from England, Ireland, Scotland or France. In Qu'Appelle We met a Hebrew boy who lent us two dollars.
