10 Autumn Poems, Short Poems about Fall

Hulme 1883-1917 favoured short, often unrhymed lyrics, and he was arguably the first modernist poet writing in English.

Fall in Love With These 6 Beautiful Autumn Poems

Watching the trees turn from a uniform green to all varieties of gold, yellow and red is a spectacular experience.

Autumn Poems

On hold, the sky, the leaves, white flash of wings—this is the world as poem upon a page, untold. So it has been since creation, and it will go on. She lives in Washington, DC.

39 Fall Poems

Milne and Christina Rossetti sit alongside Roger McGough, Carol Ann Duffy and Benjamin Zephaniah. There, like a bird, still on the tree Was that lonesome leaf, no longer gold But curly and brown and dry and old.

Autumn Poems of Famous Poets

Under the summer roses When the flagrant crimson Lurks in the dusk Of the wild red leaves, Love, with little hands, Comes and touches you With a thousand memories, And asks you Beautiful, unanswerable questions. Shelley conveys the hope implicit in our knowledge that even as winter is approaching, right behind it is spring.

Autumn Poems

Such lives as were grand to behold; Like forests in frosts of November, Whose glory was crownings of gold. A warm-up, a drill, a dry run. I noticed you had squirrelled away food in the prednisone-swollen pouches of your cheeks — not for winter, which was just then passing — but one last attempt to please my father as he spooned in breakfast before he left for a meeting.

Autumn Poems

Ready for your next read? The wind wags its many tails. After gathering all harvest autumn offers time to think about all that had happened in two past seasons. The secretive slugs crawl home to the burst honeys, are found in the morning mouth on mouth, inseparable.
