Symposium On Love, February 13

And these when they grow up become our statesmen, and these only, which is a great proof of the truth of what I am saying. The rate of reimbursement is related to the actual cost for travelling to Göteborg from the different Nordic and Baltic Countries. And am I not right in asserting that there are two goddesses? I thought that I ought to do anything rather than be a philosopher.

Now the actions of lovers vary, like every other sort of action, according to the manner of their performance. Eros can be dangerous for the lover, as well as for the beloved, as evidenced in the relationship between Socrates and Alcibiades. For the day before yesterday I was coming from my own home at Phalerum to the city, and one of my acquaintance, who had caught a sight of me from behind, calling out playfully in the distance, said: Apollodorus, O thou Phalerian Probably a play of words on Greek , 'bald-headed.

Plato's Symposium : Analysis and Commentary

And in choosing young men to be their companions, they mean to be faithful to them, and pass their whole life in company with them, not to take them in their inexperience, and deceive them, and play the fool with them, or run away from one to another of them. Would he who is great, desire to be great, or he who is strong, desire to be strong? There is no sameness of existence, but the new mortality is always taking the place of the old.

Plato

Please check the Project Gutenberg Web pages for current donation methods and addresses. Like Hippocrates the Asclepiad, he is a disciple of Heracleitus, whose conception of the harmony of opposites he explains in a new way as the harmony after discord; to his common sense, as to that of many moderns as well as ancients, the identity of contradictories is an absurdity.

Symposium

Socrates then proceeds to quote his own teacher on love, one.

Plato on True Love

On his appearing he and the host jest a little; the question is then asked by Pausanias, one of the guests, 'What shall they do about drinking? His endurance was simply marvellous when, being cut off from our supplies, we were compelled to go without food—on such occasions, which often happen in time of war, he was superior not only to me but to everybody; there was no one to be compared to him. If love desires but does not possess beautiful and good things, then love cannot, as most people think, be a god. Diotima, evidently a priestess, and probably to be regarded as possessing prophetic powers.
