Full text of

These rivers are choked with sediment and are characterized by meanders, of which a large number are dead, abandoned, or even filled up. TOC contents and distribution and factors influencing organic matter preservation sedimentological and paleoenvironmental conditions which reveal the nature and development of redox conditions are discussed. Genus Nubecularia Defrance, 1825 Family Miliolidae Ehrenberg, 1835.

Mobilization of Metal(oid) Oxyanions through Circumneutral Mine Waste

This may be due to the public feeling that geologists are confronted with personal risk and a hard occupation, while getting paid the same as other technicians who work in town.
